

I am concerned that BellSouth has filed a petition at the FCC, asking the FCC to stop regulating broadband service. I use a local ISP and am concerned that this will affect my ability to receive locally provided service at a suitable price. In the past I have used the major internet providers and was never happy with their customer service, call centers in remote locations can never match the ability to actually visit my ISP for face-to-face help. I do not want to lose this ability just so that large corporations can further dominate this market. I ask you to consider denying BellSouth's application.
